To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to introduce Mr. Chris Wade who, along with his wife Michelle, has served with SIM USA from February of 1996 until the present.

Chris "pioneered" SIM's presence on the Internet and was the developer of the Christian Mission's web page, which later became ChristianMissions.net. He also created the Great Commission Search Engine, which has earned the reputation as the "google" of Christian missions.

During his tenure with SIM, Chris has proven to be self-motivated, working very well without direct supervision. He was able to make the most of very limited resources and was very creative in finding ways to make a little go a long way with finances and equipment.

Even though our web presence was the focus of Chris' work at SIM, that was simply the means of expressing a much broader interest - his deep heartbeat for missions mobilization.

SIM will always be indebted to Chris and Michelle for the significant role they have played in this organization.

Sincerely,

Fred C. Ely
Deputy US Director
